

4 August 2008

Dear Parents and Caregivers

I write to inform you that the Australian Science and Mathematics School will be involved in industrial action on Thursday 7 August 2008 from 8.30am to 12.15pm. A significant number of staff of the ASMS will stop work on Thursday.

I have been directed by the DECS District Director, Inner South District, to utilise the staff in attendance for the provision of a modified program on Thursday. The modified program will consist of support and supervision of students working on their existing projects and assignments. The modified program will be provided for the normal operational program times on Thursday morning. Students in attendance will be organised into a combined group, under general supervision, not their normal class groupings.

The school's normal program will resume at 12.15pm.

Yours sincerely

Jim Davies
Principal
